

Why LATAM

Australian Government

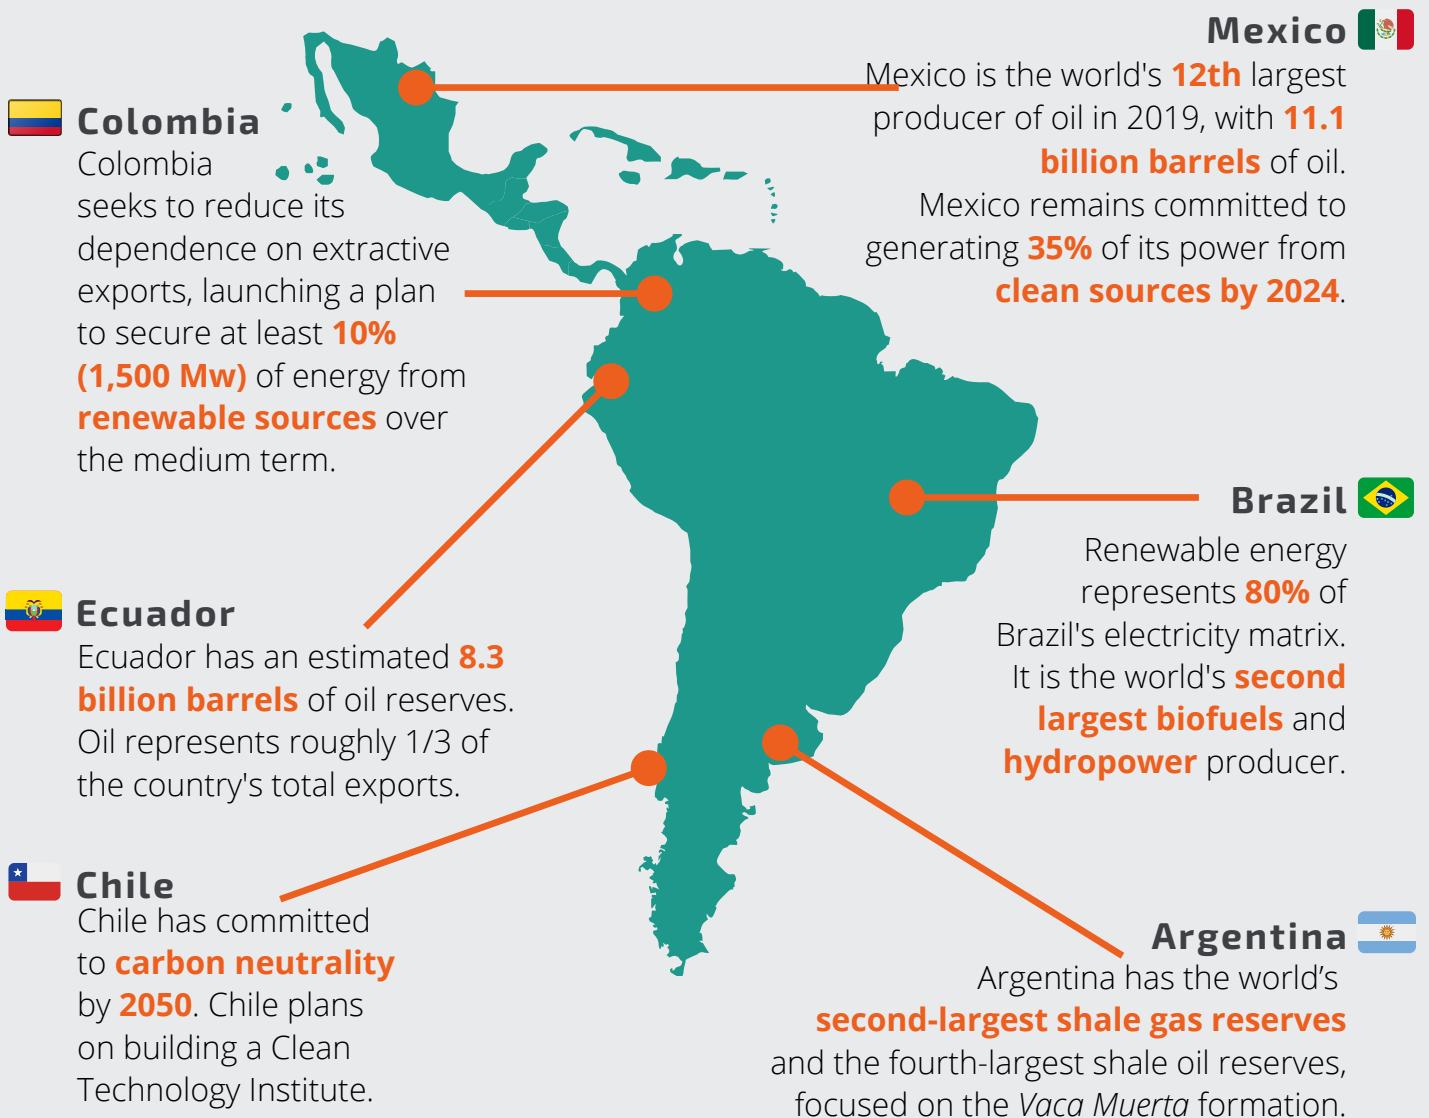

Australian Trade and Investment Commission

ENERGY

Latin America (LATAM) contains some of the most dynamic energy markets in the world, with a fast-rising renewable energy industry and an abundance of oil and gas. The Latin American Energy Organization (OLADE) has set a regional goal of reaching at least 70 per cent of renewable energy by 2030.

Market opportunities

- Energy storage
- Wind technologies
- PV and solar solutions
- Smart grids and micro grids
- Blockchain
- Construction, transmission, generation build and services
- Transport pipelines and LNG Infrastructure

References: U.S. Energy Information Administration, International Energy Agency

LATAM: Diversify your growth

Learn how at: www.austrade.gov.au/latam