I do solemnly and sincerely declare that the above information is correct and that I believe there is no legal impediment to the marriage by reason of:

- (a) My being lawfully married to some other person;
- (b) Our being within a prohibited relationship;
- (c) A lack of real consent to the marriage on my part because:
 - (i) it was obtained by duress or fraud
 - (ii) of mistaken identity of the other party or as to the nature of the ceremony performed;
 - (iii) of mental incapacity understanding the nature and effect of the marriage ceremony; or
- (d) My not being of marriageable age;

and I make this solemn declaration under the Statutory Declarations Act 1959 (Cth) conscientiously believing the statements contained in it to be true in every particular, and knowing that the Act provides a penalty for wilful making of a false statement in a declaration.

The issue of a CNI will allow same-sex couples to take part in a marriage ceremony overseas and to be recognised as being married according to the laws of that overseas country. However, a same-sex marriage will not be recognised as a marriage in Australia, but will be prima facie evidence of a de facto relationship for the purposes of a civil union under some state and territory laws.
